Big Explosion Due On Gridiron Here Tonight

Blue Lions Coming To Meet Tigers

Football Classic
Slated For 8 p.m.

By BOB GRUBB
Herald Sports Editor

Tension building up in two neighboring cities during the last eight weeks will culminate in one big explosive battle Friday night in Circleville.

Cause for all of the hubbub in both fevered cities is the final game of the 1951 football season between the Circleville Tigers and the Washington C. H. Blue Lions.

Both teams will end their seasons Friday night on the CHS gridiron when they clash for this year's South Central Ohio League championship.

Circleville will seek its fourth SCOL title in as many years during the tussle, the fourth pennant sought at the personal expense of Washington.

And Washington, which has played second fiddle to the Tigers during the last four seasons, will be out to change the run of things and to earn the flag.

Washington's Blue Lions enter Friday's contest with a record of seven victories and one tie in eight starts, needing only the Tiger pelt to make its season a banner year.

AND THE TIGERS have an impressive record also, although having suffered one defeat in its eight games. The Tigers have five wins in eight starts, two ties and a loss.

Circleville's football field is expected to be jam-packed with spectators for the final contest, not only with local fans but also with hundreds of Blue Lion rosters expected to make the trip.

And if this season is like those in the past, the more avid Washington rosters will arrive at about suppertime to camp on the bleachers, eat the snack they brought with them and assure themselves of a seat for the classic battle.

As to which team will win the championship contest, many opinions have been ventured.

Foremost among the run of talk is that the game will be exceedingly close, maybe to be determined by the slim margin of an extra point.

Circleville Coach Steve Brudinski presented his always seemingly calm look Friday, predicting that "if our boys really want to play ball they will make a good showing."

By "wanting to play ball" the coach meant having the desire to get the clean tackle and block hard and sharp.

WASHINGTON rosters also are "on the fence" when it comes to making predictions as to the outcome of the contest, according to a Fayette County spokesman who was questioned Friday morning.

Even Blue Lion Coach Fred Pierson has tread softly and announced his boys are ready to avenge their past defeats but are not forgetting what the Tigers did to a title-bound

Woman Saves 3 Years To Pay Debt Of Honor

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 — To small, white-haired Mrs. Elizabeth Antonovsky, honor is beyond price. Even if the price is $100.

Yesterday the 77-year-old woman made a pilgrimage from her rooming house in Jackson Heights to the New York Department of Hospitals. Showed into the office of Commissioner Marcus D. Kogel, she explained that she had saved three years to pay a debt of honor, $100, incurred while her husband had been a patient in Metropolitan hospital.

Kogel checked the records of Alexis Antonovsky, who died in June 1948, and explained that there was no bill since her husband had suffered from tuberculosis and the state paid his expenses.

The widow was not satisfied with the answer, saying: "We have never owed. All the people were so nice and are so nice, and my husband was treated so well, that as a Russian woman I must give you this, because I am not happy about the feelings between Americans and Russians."

Kogel said he would accept the money as a contribution to the Social Service Auxiliary and the tired little old lady left.

MADE FROM THE DECK of the transport General Hersey, this photo shows passengers and crew members of the liner Maipu as they were hauled aboard the troop ship off Bremerhaven, Germany. Note the soldier reaching for the child tied to the back of a woman. The Argentine luxury ship sank after colliding with the U. S. vessel in a heavy fog. All hands on board, 238 persons, were saved.

CINCY HAT NOW IN RING

Bob Taft's Brother Asks GOP Governor Nomination

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9 — Charles P. Taft, brother of Ohio's senior Republican senator, today announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination for governor.

The noted civic leader and lay churchman said that his visits to 81 of Ohio's 88 counties assured him of sufficient support of his candidacy in both the urban and rural districts to win the nomination.

Taft thus becomes the second entry into the Republican gubernatorial sweepstakes. State Sen. Roscoe Walcutt of Columbus recently announced his candidacy with a blast at the younger Taft's liberal views.

Walcutt declared that he would

Phillips Case Nears Decision By Jury In City

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9 — The second degree murder case of George Phillips, one-arm Columbus insurance salesman, today goes to the jury of eight women and four men in Franklin County criminal court.

Summations of the defense and prosecution were concluded this morning and Judge Myron B. Gesaman was then to outline to the jury the law applicable to the case.

Phillips, who is free on $25,000 bond, is charged with fatally beating Mrs. Ruth Alter in her home last April 25. He has shown little or no outward emotion during the trial.

The defense has produced witnesses that testified the defendant was not at the home the day of the murder and has called the attention of the jury to the fact that fingernail marks were found on both sides of the victim's neck, while Phillips has only one arm.

The prosecution called blood experts who testified clothing reportedly belonging to the defendant showed "positive" in blood tests and that the blood type corresponds to that of the victim.

The state also produced witnesses who testified Phillips called at the home that day and that his insurance card was found there.

California GOP Booming Warren

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9 — California Republicans launched a "Warren-for-President" drive today, and the governor is expected to let it be known soon whether he will accept the bid.

Both the state's U.S. senators, seven GOP members of the congressional delegation and an array of Republican leaders throughout the state issued a joint petition to the governor urging that "you declare your intention" to enter next year's June primaries as a presidential candidate.

run "as a real Republican" and not as one who had accepted "in whole or in part" the New Deal philosophy of government.

ALTHOUGH A Republican, Taft holds a seat in Cincinnati's council as a Charterite — a coalition of Democrats and Liberal Republicans that won control of the city government two years ago only to lose it in Tuesday's election. Taft, however, was not a candidate.

Because of his liberal views Taft does not have the support of his own Hamilton County party. Many Republican leaders fear that his entry into the governorship race will damage the chances of his not yet brother, Robert, to get the GOP presidential nomination for which he is a declared candidate.

These leaders hold to the belief that Ohio voters may decide that two Tafts in one year is one Taft too many.

Charles Taft nevertheless pledged a "fighting campaign under present Republican state and local leadership that will sweep the incumbent governor (Lausche) from office." This was interpreted to mean that, if nominated, he would follow a party platform.

Taft declared that "Ohioans will reject the corrupt and dubious practices of the present national administration" and added:

"WE WANT NO part of it here. The people will not continue support of a man who has called for four more years of government by crony and by big city political machines, which has created a national scandal.

"That is what the present government did when he publicly urged the reelection of Harry Truman as President."

Mother Admits Stringing Up Boys By Their Thumbs

DETROIT, Nov. 9 — A 30-year-old Detroit mother is scheduled to explain to police today why she strung her son and a neighbor boy up by the thumbs to punish them for a $20 theft from her purse.

Police said the mother, Mrs. Esther Lashbrook, admits the charge is true and also admits punishing her children by making them kneel on popcorn kernels and putting lighter fluid in a son's hands and setting fire to it.

Mrs. Lashbrook freely admitted her medieval methods to investigators and said the forms of punishment used are decided by the children.

Mrs. Lashbrook and her husband told police the family holds "court" every evening. Lashbrook sits as judge and the mother acts as prosecutor while the children decide the punishment for their offenses.

VISHINSKY TIRADE RAPPED

Yugoslavs Ask UN To Halt Russia's 'Hostile Acts'

PARIS, Nov. 9 — Yugoslavia formally accused Russia and her satellites in the United Nations today of engaging in "hostile acts" and asked the General Assembly to take up the "urgent and important" charges.

The United States meanwhile rejected Russia's disarmament counter-proposal and the New Zealand delegate attacked what he termed Soviet "betrayal of peace."

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj handed a written request to assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo asking that the charges against Russia, Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Poland be put on the agenda.

Kardelj asked for quick consideration of the Yugoslav charge that the Soviet bloc is fomenting Balkan warfare.

The accompanying memorandum relayed by Marshal Tito's anti-Moscow regime lists a number of Yugoslav soldiers already killed. It documented other border incidents to support its charges.

THE YUGOSLAV step considerably bolstered the American challenge to Russia to quit talking about peace and do something.

Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, who announced the American rejection of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's counter-plan, gave an implied challenge to Russia to disarm now and quit stalling.

Some non-Communist nations wondered if the Soviet counter-proposal would kill Korean truce talks. The non-Communist lands began lining up behind the thorough U. S. plan for peace and disarmament.

The move by Tito's government had been expected. In a recent news conference in Belgrade Tito estimated that the Soviet bloc had one million men in the lands bordering his country.

Woman 'Dead For 10 Hours' Regains Life As She Is Carted Into Morgue

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9 — A San Francisco woman who apparently "came back from the dead," today was unconsciously struggling to hang on to the life she had "regained."

Mrs. Theresa Butler, a 60-year-old widow, was pronounced in "critical" condition in a San Francisco hospital after she had revived as attendants were carrying her into the morgue.

A late hospital bulletin said: "Respiration is quiet and regular. While not conscious, the patient does respond to pain stimuli. It will take 24 to 36 hours to see if she will recover."

Mrs. Butler was logged in the police books as a "suicide" case yesterday when Policeman James Gleason turned in a death certificate.

HOWEVER, as Deputy Coroner James Leonard took the supposed "corpse" into the city morgue he noticed her jaw move. He transferred her from the hearse to an ambulance and had her taken to an emergency hospital.

Mrs. Butler was given heart stimulants, blood plasma under pressure and oxygen. She then recovered enough to be moved to San Francisco City hospital.

When Mrs. Butler's "body" was discovered yesterday morning in her fashionable apartment, Dr. Edward D. McLin, a private physician, said she had been "dead for 10 hours."

The body had been found partially submerged in a half-filled bathtub of water. Gleason, who called in on the case, said he found two empty bottles that might have contained sedatives.

Gleason also said that several notes, containing information about

He termed these troops, including special-trained police forces, a menace to world peace.

New Zealand Delegate F. W. Doidge first attacked the Russian rejection of the American plan, followed by Australia's Richard G. Casey who told the assembly:

"I was surprised and shocked by Vishinsky's levity. He should realize there are occasions too serious for the use of levity—millions of people yearning for peace are appalled by such cynicism."

VISHINSKY SAID yesterday he couldn't sleep for "laughing" at President Truman's speech and that of Secretary of State Acheson outlining the U. S. peace and disarmament plan.

Casey said "Soviet peace looks to us like a campaign of political warfare designed to disarm the Democracies and lull them into a feeling of false security."

Casey warned Russia not to isolate itself to the "point of no return."

He attacked Russian fifth-column activities in his own homeland and a dozen other countries. He said these incitements to disorder were aimed "to create conditions under which Communism backed by Soviet power can dominate."

At the same time, the foreign ministers of France, Britain and the United States met at the French foreign ministry to plan additional strategy to cope with Vishinsky's plan which amounts to blunt notice that the Cold War will continue.

Jessup said the Western plan embodying an arms census and inspection and control of atomic and conventional weapons before disarmament will be pushed as far as possible in the current UN meeting.

A British spokesman expressed similar sentiments and France is indicating complete solidarity at least on this point.

the settling of her affairs, were found about the apartment.

Dr. McLin, when he was informed of Mrs. Butler's "miraculous" recovery, expressed amazement. He said:

"When I examined her there was no corneal reflex—that is, there was no reaction when her eyeball was touched. Also I could detect no heart beat through the stethoscope."

Dr. McLin said that Dr. Joseph Mandell, emergency hospital physician, told him that Mrs. Butler, when she was brought to the hospital, looked "as much like a corpse as anyone I've ever seen."

Dr. J. C. Geiger, San Francisco health director, said:

"Any normal doctor would have made the same diagnosis."

Man Assaults Blind Woman

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9 — A 40-year-old blind woman was assaulted today in Columbus by a man who gained entrance to her home on the pretense he was a member of the police vice squad.

Mrs. Dorothy Waggoner, who suffered two black eyes and cuts about the face, told police she was awakened by repeated knocking on her door shortly after midnight. She said the man grabbed the telephone as she tried to call police and beat her with his fists before fleeing.

Ship Sends SOS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9 — A distress signal was intercepted today from the Japanese Ship Kinugasa Maru, which reported her number three hold flooding in the Pacific some 800 miles east of Japan. The 4,871-ton ship has 42 crew men aboard.

AT A CORONER'S INQUEST in Los Angeles, Mrs. Frances Faravino, 17, sits with hand on head as she hears the jury vindicate Policeman Arthur Davis in the fatal shooting of her husband, Vincent. Beside her is her mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie Faravino. At right is Donald Douglas, who was with Vincent when they stole a car as a "Halloween prank." Davis "acted in line of duty," jury agreed.

UN TEAM IS SURPRISED

Vishinsky Bombshell Seen Fouling Korea Truce Talk

MUNSAN, Nov. 9 — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway conferred with his Korea truce negotiators today on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's 38th Parallel bombshell.

A United Nations command spokesman said later that Communist cease-fire negotiators at today's session of the Panmunjom talks apparently were still unaware that Russia has proposed anew that Korea should be split at the Parallel.

Ridgway conferred with the truce negotiators at Munsan, and it was not immediately learned whether he planned a statement on the new Soviet proposal, which took UN negotiators by surprise.

The spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said the Red delegates spent the two hour and 45 minute session in repetitious argument and appeared to be stalling, awaiting some cue from higher channels.

THE MEETING, he said, was a "completely unproductive" but so far the Communists gave no indication of reverting to their former insistence on the 38th Parallel as a line of demarcation. Vishinsky proposed in Paris that all troops withdraw to the 38th Parallel within 10 days of a Korea cease-fire.

But as yet there was no indication the Red truce delegates were considering going back to the parallel as a line of demarcation.

Vishinsky's proposal took UN negotiators by surprise and raised possibility threat of wiping out progress made at Panmunjom in the last fortnight.

Some observers believed it might presage a reneging by the Reds on their announced willingness to accept a demarcation line and buffer zone along present battlelines, up to 15 miles north of the old political boundary.

Today, Nuckols said, the two Communist members of the conference subcommittee set up to draw up the boundaries of a buffer zone "gave increasing indications" they want the line frozen.

This he pointed out, would be "relieving them from any military pressure to reach agreement."

Monday Slated For Observance As Legal Holiday

Although Armistice Day falls on Sunday, most state and federal offices here, as well as Circleville banks, will observe Monday as the legal holiday.

"The city plans no special observance," Mayor Thurman I. Miller said Friday, "but all city offices with the exception of police and fire departments will be closed."

At the postoffice, city and rural mail service will be suspended Monday, except for special delivery mail.

All state offices, including the employment service, will observe the holiday. And Pickaway Court-house offices will also close to the public.

Elsewhere, it will be "business as usual."

Regular sessions in city and county schools will be held, officials reported, and the office of the county superintendent of schools will be open.

The public library will also maintain regular daily hours.

Services Also Slated For Boost

Latest Orders Effective Dec. 19

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — Government officials said today that further price increases for autos and scores of other manufactured goods will be approved soon, probably next week.

Increased charges also will be authorized in the near future for auto and appliance repairs, laundry and dry cleaning, tailoring and shoe repairs and filling station services.

Such price adjustments will follow the pattern established last night for manufacturers and processors of foods, furniture, household appliances, auto parts, farm equipment, rubber products, chemicals and machinery.

Officials predicted that the revision of price orders affecting such business firms will "bring more price increases than decreases." All price changes will be passed along to the public.

PRICE STABILIZER Michael DiSalle laid the blame for increases on Congress in general and the so-called Capehart amendment in particular.

The Capehart amendment, which President Truman has called "an economic booby-trap," requires the Office of Price Stabilization to allow manufacturers to include overhead costs in computing ceilings.

OPS previously allowed only direct materials and labor costs to be figured in adjusting ceilings.

Auto-makers recently were granted higher prices because of increased production costs. The Capehart amendment will entitle them to additional boosts.

The revised orders will allow manufacturers to compute ceilings on the basis of pre-Korean selling prices plus or minus increased or decreased costs through last July 26.

The orders are effective Dec. 19. A manufacturer may elect to apply for a Capehart adjustment at any time and put his adjusted prices into effect after notifying the price agency.

However, OPS retains the right to revise the adjustments whenever it finds that "excessive and unreasonable" costs have been included.

DiSalle said some manufacturers have told him privately that they do not plan to increase prices at this time because the public will not pay them.

The stabilizer said: "They'll put their higher ceilings on a shelf and use them some time in the future."

Diplomatic Spy Crackdown Asked By Senators

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — Demands for a crackdown on diplomatic spies were anticipated today following testimony that a Czech attaché stole U.S. secrets dealing with atomic, germ and chemical warfare.

Sen. O'Connor, (D) Md., said the agent, Col. Oto Biheler, former military and air attaché at the Czechoslovakian embassy in Washington, was permitted to operate in the U.S. despite the protests of intelligence agencies.

Sen. McCarran, (D) Nev., said the case is "typical of hundreds" and criticized the State and Justice Departments for alleged failure to bar subversives who operate under diplomatic immunity.

O'Connor disclosed that Biheler, a one-time high ranking Czech Communist counter-intelligence official, came to the U.S. on a diplomatic visa in 1948, and traveled widely in search of atomic, bacteriological and jet-engine secrets.

Biheler is presently in Czechoslovakia.

O'Connor said that secret testimony taken by an anti-subversive subcommittee earlier this week indicated that Biheler used his diplomatic status in the U.S. to facilitate spy work.

Woman 'Dead For 10 Hours' Regains Life As She Is Carted Into Morgue

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9 — A San Francisco woman who apparently "came back from the dead," today was unconsciously struggling to hang on to the life she had "regained."

Mrs. Theresa Butler, a 60-year-old widow, was pronounced in "critical" condition in a San Francisco hospital after she had revived as attendants were carrying her into the morgue.

A late hospital bulletin said: "Respiration is quiet and regular. While not conscious, the patient does respond to pain stimuli. It will take 24 to 36 hours to see if she will recover."

Mrs. Butler was logged in the police books as a "suicide" case yesterday when Policeman James Gleason turned in a death certificate.

HOWEVER, as Deputy Coroner James Leonard took the supposed "corpse" into the city morgue he noticed her jaw move. He transferred her from the hearse to an ambulance and had her taken to an emergency hospital.

Mrs. Butler was given heart stimulants, blood plasma under pressure and oxygen. She then recovered enough to be moved to San Francisco City hospital.

When Mrs. Butler's "body" was discovered yesterday morning in her fashionable apartment, Dr. Edward D. McLin, a private physician, said she had been "dead for 10 hours."

The body had been found partly submerged in a half-filled bathtub of water. Gleason, who called in on the case, said he found two empty bottles that might have contained sedatives.

Gleason also said that several notes, containing information about the settling of her affairs, were found about the apartment.

Dr. McLin, when he was informed of Mrs. Butler's "miraculous" recovery, expressed amazement. He said:

"When I examined her there was no corneal reflex—that is, there was no reaction when her eyeball was touched. Also I could detect no heart beat through the stethoscope."

AT A CORONER'S INQUEST in Los Angeles, Mrs. Frances Faravino, 17, sits with hand on head as she hears the jury vindicate Policeman Arthur Davis in the fatal shooting of her husband, Vincent. Beside her is her mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie Faravino. At right is Donald Douglas, who was with Vincent when they stole a car as a "Halloween prank." Davis "acted in line of duty," jury agreed.

UN TEAM IS SURPRISED

Vishinsky Bombshell Seen Fouling Korea Truce Talk

MUNSAN, Nov. 9 — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway conferred with his Korean truce negotiators today on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's 38th Parallel bombshell.

A United Nations command spokesman said later that Communist cease-fire negotiators at today's session of the Panmunjom talks apparently were still unaware that Russia has proposed anew that Korea should be split at the parallel.

Ridgway conferred with the truce negotiators at Munsan, and it was not immediately learned whether he planned a statement on the new Soviet proposal, which took UN negotiators by surprise.

The spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said the Red delegates spent the two hour and 45 minute session in repetitious argument and appeared to be stalling, awaiting some cue from higher channels.

THE MEETING, he said, was "completely unproductive" but so far the Communists gave no indication of reverting to their former insistence on the 38th Parallel as a line of demarcation. Vishinsky proposed in Paris that all troops withdraw to the 38th Parallel within 10 days of a Korea cease-fire.

But as yet there was no indication the Red truce delegates were considering going back to the parallel as a line of demarcation. Vishinsky's proposal took UN negotiators by surprise and raised possible threat of wiping out progress made at Panmunjom in the last fortnight.

Some observers believed it might presage a reneging by the Reds on their announced willingness to accept a demarcation line and buffer zone along present battlelines, up to 15 miles north of the old political boundary.

Today, Nuckols said, the two Communist members of the conference subcommittee set up to draw up the boundaries of a buffer zone "gave increasing indications" they want the line frozen.

This he pointed out, would be "relieving them from any military pressure to reach agreement."

Three Communist Russian-type Mig-15 jet fighters were shot down and two others damaged in two aerial battles that brought the Red toll to 10 planes shot up in two days of intensified air action.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway visited the front lines in a light plane and surveyed Chinese positions through binoculars from an observation post.

Censorship veiled the exact sector which the Allied commander visited after conferring with Allied armistice delegates at Munsan near the beleaguered western front.

The Communists hastily pulled their tanks out of contact with Allied armor northeast of Kaesong, where the Red limited offensive went into its sixth day.

Allied troops pulled a Chinese battalion into a trap which cost the Communist unit 135 counted dead. The Reds, pushing into the Allied line in an effort to retake a hill which has changed hands four times in as many days, stormed the hill position to find the Allied defenders had withdrawn.

Just as the Reds were feeling the flush of victory a pre-arranged artillery barrage scorched them from the top of their newly "won" hill.

Ship Sends SOS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9 — A distress signal was intercepted today from the Japanese Ship Kinugasa Maru, which reported her number three hold flooding in the Pacific some 800 miles east of Japan. The 4,771-ton ship has 42 crew men aboard.

Services Also Slated For Boost

Latest Orders Effective Dec. 19

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — Government officials said today that further price increases for autos and scores of other manufactured goods will be approved soon, probably next week.

Increased charges also will be authorized in the near future for auto and appliance repairs, laundry and dry cleaning, tailoring and shoe repairs and filling station services.

Such price adjustments will follow the pattern established last night for manufacturers and processors of foods, furniture, household appliances, auto parts, farm equipment, rubber products, chemicals and machinery.

Officials predicted that the revision of price orders affecting such business firms will "bring more price increases than decreases." All price changes will be passed along to the public.

PRICE STABILIZER Michael DiSalle laid the blame for increases on Congress in general and the so-called Capehart amendment in particular.

The Capehart amendment, which President Truman has called "an economic booby-trap," requires the Office of Price Stabilization to allow manufacturers to include overhead costs in computing ceilings.

OPS previously allowed only direct materials and labor costs to be figured in adjusting ceilings.

Auto-makers recently were granted higher prices because of increased production costs. The Capehart amendment will entitle them to additional boosts.

The revised orders will allow manufacturers to compute ceilings on the basis of pre-Korean selling prices plus or minus increased or decreased costs through last July 28.

The orders are effective Dec. 19. A manufacturer may elect to apply for a Capehart adjustment at any time and put his adjusted prices into effect after notifying the price agency.

However, OPS retains the right to revise the adjustments whenever it finds that "excessive and unreasonable" costs have been included.

DiSalle said some manufacturers have told him privately that they do not plan to increase prices at this time because the public will not pay them.

The stabilizer said: "They'll put their higher ceilings on a shelf and use them some time in the future."

Diplomatic Spy Crackdown Asked By Senators

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — Demands for a crackdown on diplomatic spies were anticipated today following testimony that a Czech attache stole U. S. secrets dealing with atomic, germ and chemical warfare.

Sen. O'Connor, (D) Md., said the agent, Col. Oto Biheler, former military and air attache at the Czechoslovakian embassy in Washington, was permitted to operate in the U. S. despite the protests of intelligence agencies.

Sen. McCarran, (D) Nev., said the case is "typical of hundreds" and criticized the State and Justice Departments for alleged failure to bar subversives who operate under diplomatic immunity.

O'Connor disclosed that Biheler, a one-time high ranking Czech Communist counter-intelligence official, came to the U. S. on a diplomatic visa in 1948, and traveled widely in search of atomic, bacteriological and jet-engine secrets.

Biheler is presently in Czechoslovakia.

O'Connor said that secret testimony taken by an anti-subversive subcommittee earlier this week indicated that Biheler used his diplomatic status in the U. S. to facilitate spy work.

Regular sessions in city and county schools will be held, officials reported, and the office of the county superintendent of schools will be open.

The public library will also maintain regular daily hours.

team in 1949. The Tigers won that game by a wide margin.

Both teams will have added incentives during the final clash, Circleville with nine seniors who will want to do their best in their last high school game and Washington with eight.

Tiger seniors to play their last games Friday night are Ends Jim Cook and Charles Johnson; Tackle Bill Gillis; Guards John Cockrell and Lloyd Brannon; Quarterback Jerry Rooney; Halfbacks Jerry Pritchard and Paul Hill; and Fullback Dave Coffland.

The weatherman has promised to be nice for the evening to make the show complete, promising temperatures of 30 to 35 and skies only slightly overcast.

And for additional entertainment for the fans attending the game, if they need any, will be halftime performances by both the Circleville and Washington marching bands. Both units were to have made trips with their teams last week but called the trips off because of the snow.

Probable starting lineups for both teams in the contest, with kickoff slated for 8 p. m., are as follows:

Circleville
Ends—Jim Cook, Charles Johnson.

Tackles—Bill Gillis, Mike Brown.
Guards—John Cockrell, Lloyd Brannon.

Center—Walt Heine.
Quarterback—Jerry Rooney.
Halfbacks—Jerry Pritchard, Paul Hill.

Fullback—Dave Coffland.
Washington
Ends—Allen Grilliot, Dick Waters.

Tackles—Jim Perrill, Merrill Kaufman.
Guards—Joe Provost, Wayne VanMeter.

Center—Dale Orihood.
Quarterback—Bob Alkire.
Halfbacks—Carl Smith, Neil Childress.

Fullback—Charles Holbrook.

Parma May Get Vote Recount

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Mayor Lawrence Stary of Parma, defeated by 70 votes in his bid for reelection, will ask a recount of the vote in each of the suburb's 17 precincts.

The final unofficial count of Tuesday's balloting gave Stary 3,519 votes and Stephen A. Zona, the winner, 3,589. A third candidate, Malcolm C. Heed, polled 2,679 votes.

Recounts cannot be requested until the board of elections certifies returns, expected in about a week. Candidates then have five days thereafter to make their requests.

Minor Traffic Mishaps Noted; No One Injured

Two minor traffic mishaps occurred in Circleville Thursday, but no one was injured.

Police reported that an automobile driven by Joseph N. Briggs, 34, of Columbus, was damaged slightly when Briggs attempted to pass a freight truck, operated by Vera Turley, 38, of Charleston, W. Va., at 11:45 p. m. Thursday, on North Court street between York street and Northridge road.

The truck had stalled on North Court street, and Briggs driving north was crowded into the side of the truck as he attempted to pass.

In another minor mishap the auto of Clyde McGlone, 32, of Circleville, Route 2, and one driven by Faye W. Porter of 318 South Pickaway street, collided on Corwin street, east of Everetts alley.

Police said the McGlone auto had pulled away from the curb into the line of traffic and hit the Porter auto. The right rear fender was dented and torn on the McGlone car, while the Porter car received a broken front bumper and fender damages. The accident happened at 4 p. m. Thursday.

$10,000 Found On Seat Of Car
CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Cleveland police uncovered a $10,000 mystery today.

The money, in $5, $10 and $20 bills, was found lying on the seat of an abandoned car on the city's east side. It was neatly wrapped in brown paper and sealed with gum tape.

Detective Chief James McArthur said he knew of no comparable amount of money reported lost or stolen recently.

One license tag on the 1936 car was issued to a Morrow County farmer who said the tag was stolen two months ago.

Courthouse Gets New Storm Door
A new interior storm door is under construction this week in the basement of Pickaway Courthouse.

The new storm door is located in the passageway of the southwest back entrance to the courthouse, designed to keep chilly drafts from basement offices.

Courthouse workers added that talk of a similar storm door for the front entrance of the courthouse was rumored, although no announcement has been made by the county commissioners.

Cline Addresses Deputy Group
About 25 members of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary met Thursday night in Court-Main restaurant.

The dinner meeting was followed by an address by Guy Cline, county prosecutor, who told the auxiliary deputies of their powers to arrest.

The prosecutor devoted the major portion of his talk toward explaining the differences between felonies and misdemeanors.

REV. W. A. CAVE
The Rev. William Allen Cave, 82, Circleville native, and retired ordained Episcopalian clergyman, died Thursday in Barrington, Ill., where his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Schuler, resides.

Born and raised in Circleville, he was the son of Emanuel Cave, and formerly resided on East Mound street, in the residence now owned by William Watts.

He was educated in Circleville schools and attended Wooster college. He served churches in Nelsonville and in Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota. Since his retirement he assisted in services at the Episcopal church in Crystal Lake, Ill., the home of a son.

He is survived by four other daughters; a son, John Cave, of Crystal Lake; three brothers, Roy W. Cave, Lancaster; B. Bueford Cave, Cleveland, and Harry Cave, Portsmouth.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Barrington, and the body will be sent to Circleville Sunday. Services here will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in Deffenbaugh Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick C. F. Randolph, of Lancaster, officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

MRS. CHANCEY GOODMAN
Mrs. Jennie Wann Goodman, 84, widow of Chancey Goodman and a resident of Lancaster, died Wednesday evening in a Bremen rest home.

Mrs. Goodman was a former resident of Saltcreek Township and school teacher in that community.

She was preceded in death by her husband, a son and two sisters, Mrs. Eber Drum of Tarleton and Mrs. Charles DeLong of Circleville Route 4.

Survivors included a son Lawrence of Lancaster; three grandchildren; nieces and nephews, Mrs. M. M. Bowman of Stoutsville Route 1, Mark DeLong of East Mound street, Ralph DeLong and Mrs. Loring Leist, both of Circleville Route 4.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in Ray Wise Funeral Home, Wheeling street, Lancaster. Burial will be in Whisler cemetery.

ALBERT ARCHER
Funeral services for Albert Archer, 74, retired Laureville mail carrier who died Thursday morning, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Deffenbaugh Funeral Home, Laureville.

The Rev. Howard Meecham will officiate, and burial will be in Green Summit cemetery, Adelphi. Friends may call in the funeral home in Laureville Friday evening.

Week Ending Oct. 27 Shows Business Hike
Pickaway County retail business showed a slight gain for the week ending Oct. 27 as compared to the corresponding week a year ago, according to report of sales tax stamps sold here.

State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy said that Pickaway County's total for the week was $5,060.52, compared to $5,028.59 for the same week in 1950, a gain of $31.93.

This is a drop from the previous week, however, when the Pumpkin Show brought retail sales booming to a total of $5,841.92 for the week ending Oct. 20.

Throughout the state, all industries except automotive showed gains over last year. They include food, apparel, general, furniture, building, chain stores and miscellaneous stores.

Neighboring counties to Pickaway showed the following totals for the week ending Oct. 27, as compared with the same week a year ago, the 1951 figures listed first:

Fairfield, $17,003.98 and $11,117.79; Fayette, $6,379.02 and $7,565.30; Franklin, $205,280.40 and $233,619.83; Highland, $5,806.33 and $4,728.38; Hocking, $6,248.59 and $4,015.84; Madison, $5,866.61 and $6,101.74; and Ross, $7,331.81 and $13,539.50.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Barrington, and the body will be sent to Circleville Sunday. Services here will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in Deffenbaugh Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick C. F. Randolph, of Lancaster, officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

Blue Lions Coming To Meet Tigers

team in 1949. The Tigers won that game by a wide margin.
Both teams will have added incentives during the final clash, Circleville with nine seniors who will want to do their best in their last high school game and Washington with eight.
Tiger seniors to play their last games Friday night are Ends Jim Cook and Charles Johnson; Tackle Bill Gillis; Guards John Cockrell and Lloyd Brannon; Quarterback Jerry Rooney; Halfbacks Jerry Pritchard and Paul Hill; and Fullback Dave Coffland.
The weatherman has promised to be nice for the evening to make the show complete, promising temperatures of 30 to 35 and skies only slightly overcast.
And for additional entertainment for the fans attending the game, if they need any, will be halftime performances by both the Circleville and Washington marching bands. Both units were to have made trips with their teams last week but called the trips off because of the snow.
Probable starting lineups for both teams in the contest, with kickoff slated for 8 p. m., are as follows:

Circleville
Ends—Jim Cook, Charles Johnson.
Tackles—Bill Gillis, Mike Brown.
Guards—John Cockrell, Lloyd Brannon.
Center—Walt Heine.
Quarterback—Jerry Rooney.
Halfbacks—Jerry Pritchard, Paul Hill.
Fullback—Dave Coffland.
Washington
Ends—Allen Grilliot, Dick Walters.
Tackles—Jim Perrill, Merrill Kaufman.
Guards—Joe Provost, Wayne VanMeter.
Center—Dale Orihood.
Quarterback—Bob Alkire.
Halfbacks—Carl Smith, Neil Childress.
Fullback—Charles Holbrook.

Parma May Get Vote Recount

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9 — Mayor Lawrence Story of Parma, defeated by 70 votes in his bid for reelection, will ask a recount of the vote in each of the suburb's 17 precincts.
The final unofficial count of Tuesday's balloting gave Story 3,519 votes and Stephen A. Zona, the winner, 3,389. A third candidate, Malcolm C. Heed, polled 2,679 votes.
Recounts cannot be requested until the board of elections certifies returns, expected in about a week. Candidates then have five days thereafter to make their requests.

Minor Traffic Mishaps Noted; No One Injured

Two minor traffic mishaps occurred in Circleville Thursday, but no one was injured.
Police reported that an automobile driven by Joseph N. Briggs, 34, of Columbus, was damaged slightly when Briggs attempted to pass a freight truck, operated by Vora Turley, 38, of Charleston, W. Va., at 11:45 p. m. Thursday, on North Court street between York street and Northridge road.
The truck had stalled on North Court street, and Briggs driving north was crowded into the side of the truck as he attempted to pass. In another minor mishap the auto of Clyde McGone, 32, of Circleville Route 2, and one driven by Faye W. Porter of 318 South Pickaway street, collided on Corwin street, east of Everetts alley.
Police said the McGone auto had pulled away from the curb into the line of traffic and hit the Porter auto. The right rear fender was dented and torn on the McGone car, while the Porter car received a broken front bumper and fender damages. The accident happened at 4 p. m. Thursday.

$10,000 Found On Seat Of Car

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9—Cleveland police uncovered a $10,000 mystery today.
The money, in $5, $10 and $20 bills, was found lying on the seat of an abandoned car on the city's east side. It was neatly wrapped in brown paper and sealed with gum tape.
Detective Chief James McArthur said he knew of no comparable amount of money reported lost or stolen recently.
One license tag on the 1936 car was issued to a Morrow County farmer who said the tag was stolen two months ago.

Courthouse Gets New Storm Door

A new interior storm door is under construction this week in the basement of Pickaway Courthouse.
The new storm door is located in the passageway of the southwest back entrance to the courthouse, designed to keep chilly drafts from basement offices.
Courthouse workers added that talk of a similar storm door for the front entrance of the courthouse was rumored, although no announcement has been made by the county commissioners.

Cline Addresses Deputy Group

About 25 members of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary met Thursday night in Court-Main restaurant.
The dinner meeting was followed by an address by Guy Cline, county prosecutor, who told the auxiliary deputies of their powers to arrest.
The prosecutor devoted the major portion of his talk toward explaining the differences between felonies and misdemeanors.

DEATHS and Funerals

REV. W. A. CAVE
The Rev. William Allen Cave, 82, Circleville native, and retired ordained Episcopalian clergyman, died Thursday in Barrington, Ill., where his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Schuler, resides.

Born and raised in Circleville, he was the son of Emanuel Cave, and formerly resided on East Mound street, in the residence now owned by William Watts.

He was educated in Circleville schools and attended Wooster college. He served churches in Nelsonville and in Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota. Since his retirement he assisted in services at the Episcopal church in Crystal Lake, Ill., the home of a son.

He is survived by four other daughters; a son, John Cave, of Crystal Lake; three brothers, Roy W. Cave, Lancaster; B. Buford Cave, Cleveland, and Harry Cave, Portsmouth.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Barrington, and the body will be sent to Circleville Sunday. Services here will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick C. F. Randolph, of Lancaster, officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

MRS. CHAUNCEY GOODMAN
Mrs. Jennie Wann Goodman, 84, widow of Chauncey Goodman and a resident of Lancaster, died Wednesday evening in a Bremen rest home.

Mrs. Goodman was a former resident of Salt Creek Township and school teacher in that community. She was preceded in death by her husband, a son and two sisters, Mrs. Eber Drum of Tarlton and Mrs. Charles DeLong of Circleville Route 4.

Survivors included a son Lawrence of Lancaster; three grandchildren; nieces and nephews, Mrs. M. M. Bowman of Stoutsville Route 1, Mark DeLong of East Mound street, Ralph DeLong and Mrs. Loring Leist, both of Circleville Route 4.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in Ray Wise Funeral Home, Wheeling street, Lancaster. Burial will be in Whisler cemetery.

ALBERT ARCHER
Funeral services for Albert Archer, 74, retired Laureville mail carrier who died Thursday morning, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home, Laureville.

The Rev. Howard Meecham will officiate, and burial will be in Green Summit cemetery, Adelphi. Friends may call in the funeral home in Laureville Friday evening.

Week Ending Oct. 27 Shows Business Hike

Pickaway County retail business showed a slight gain for the week ending Oct. 27 as compared to the corresponding week a year ago, according to report of sales tax stamps sold here.

State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy said that Pickaway County's total for the week was $5,060.52, compared to $5,028.59, for the same week in 1950, a gain of $31.93.

This is a drop from the previous week, however, when the Pumpkin Show brought retail sales booming to a total of $5,841.92 for the week ending Oct. 20.

Throughout the state, all industries except automotive showed gains over last year. They include food, apparel, general, furniture, building, chain stores and miscellaneous stores.

Neighboring counties to Pickaway showed the following totals for the week ending Oct. 27, as compared with the same week a year ago, the 1951 figures listed first:

Fairfield, $17,003.08 and $11,117.79; Fayette, $6,379.02 and $7,565.30; Franklin, $205,280.40 and $233,619.83; Highland, $5,806.33 and $4,728.38; Hocking, $6,248.59 and $4,015.84; Madison, $5,866.61 and $6,101.74; and Ross, $7,331.81 and $13,539.50.

U. S. Must Build Civilian Defense

By MILLARD CALDWELL
U. S. Civil Defense Director

(Editor's Note: This is the eleventh of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.)

All persons experienced in work having to do with health or medicine, others who can be trained in special weapons defense (against atomic, biological, and chemical warfare), are needed for the civil defense Health Service. Their big job will be to care for the injured, and protect the health of a city after an attack. In addition, many more volunteers will be needed for various duties under the direction of professional people, such as doctors and nurses, in the local civil defense organizations.

The Health Service also must have thousands of persons trained in more than just first aid who can be organized for definite jobs at first aid stations, and women volunteers who have taken courses in home nursing and nurses' aide.

Men will be needed as litter bearers, ambulance personnel, hospital orderlies and attendants, supply handlers, and maintenance workers.

Defense against disease and gas warfare, and against radiological contamination will need extra food inspectors, and sanitation workers. Radiological monitoring teams will need teachers, or advanced students of physics and other related subjects, as team leaders, and high school graduates who have studied elementary physics, and radio repairmen, who can serve as members of such teams.

Government Halts Model Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — The government today prohibited the auto industry and manufacturers of washing machines, refrigerators and other consumer durable goods from making major model changes after Feb. 1.

The National Production Authority took the action in an order placing the nation's machine tool industry on a full mobilization basis. This affects every type of civilian producer dealing in products containing metal.

Other volunteers are needed for clerical work, to keep records of the ill, the injured, and the dead, to aid in the procurement of blood for the blood service under the charge of the American Red Cross, and to be trained as assistants in laboratory work.

HELP IS NEEDED for such duties as washing laboratory glassware and mopping floors. In fact, no matter what you do, Health Service can use you in the vitally important civil defense work of saving lives.

If an enemy attacks one of our cities, many persons will find themselves without food, clothing, money, and shelter. The Welfare Service provides such things and aids in locating missing persons, caring for infants, the aged, and the infirm.

It also gathers and passes on news of people who are separated from their families, contacts relatives in other cities, refers families to places where they can get special help, and registers those persons who must have individual care.

Training courses, under competent instructors, are available in the various branches of this civil defense program. Women, by background and experience, are well qualified for both these services and are urged to take a special interest in them.

99-Year-Old Emmett's Chapel Young Again After Rededication

Last Sunday was a red letter day for Emmett's Chapel Methodist church, located just South of Circleville on Route 23.

During the last three years the congregation has been remodeling and improving the 99-year-old chapel.

Improvements recently completed include new hardwood floors, furnace, pews, altar, pulpit, communion table, carpet, walls papered and the exterior and roof freshly painted.

Last Sunday, with a congregation that more than filled the new oak pews, the chapel was rededicated. The service opened under the direction of the Rev. Carl Wetherell, pastor, with Mrs. Wetherell at the piano.

DR. GEORGE WILSON, superintendent of the Chillicothe district, preached the sermon and led the dedicatory service.

Wells Wilson, chairman of the official board, spoke briefly of the work done, stating that about $4,000 had been spent on the improvement.

He then presented the property to the district superintendent for re-dedication. The service was led from the new Methodist hymnals recently purchased.

Dr. George Wilson's sermon pictured the biblical character Isaiah as a young nobleman much concerned at the death of King Uzziah.

But then he "saw the Lord" and volunteered for service. Dr. Wilson emphasized that "we, too, have great opportunity to serve." He recalled Jesus' words about a "city set on a hill cannot be hid" saying that Emmett Chapel, both beautiful and useful, is also set on a hill and cannot be hid.

PRESENT AT the service were a number of friends from Circleville and surrounding communities. Congregational hymns were "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," "O Zion Haste" and the dedicatory hymn "Take My Life and Let It Be, Ever, Only All For Thee." A quartet, composed of Wells and

Philip Wilson and Arthur and Dale Gifford, sang "The Church's One Foundation," and Phil Wilson, accompanied by his daughter, sang "Bless This House."

The improvement of the chapel was begun with a bequest of money by the late Miss Nettie Rader, registered nurse.

Miss Rader was a member of Emmett Chapel. Her sister, Mrs. Cora Hood, continues a devoted member of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shepler presented the communion table. There were other smaller cash gifts by members and friends sufficient to make a long list.

The members remember especially the efforts of Rev. S. C. Elsea, of Circleville, during whose pastorate the work began.

Plans for the re-dedication were made by the recently organized church board of education, composed of Arthur Gifford, Mrs. Bernard Young, Mrs. Curtis Bower, Mrs. Harry Wright and Dale Gifford.

Priest Involved In Theft Due To Be Deported

TOLEDO, Nov. 9—The Rev. Anthony Gorek, 72, former Toledo priest who figured in the aftermath of a million-dollar Toledo post-office robbery in 1921, today faces deportation.

Immigration and naturalization officials said Father Gorek, now living in Brenham, Tex., illegally re-entered the United States in 1937.

The immigration officials said that when Father Gorek pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing $35,000 worth of Liberty Bonds stolen in the robbery of the postoffice on Feb. 17, 1921, he was inadmissible when he came back to the United States.

Officials said that Father Gorek left for Poland shortly after he served one hour in custody of a U. S. marshal for his part in the robbery.

At the time of the trial, Father Gorek said he cashed several of the bonds to help his church. The rest were recovered in his home.

(Editor's Note: This is the eleventh of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.)

All persons experienced in work having to do with health or medicine, others who can be trained in special weapons defense (against atomic, biological, and chemical warfare), are needed for the civil defense Health Service. Their big job will be to care for the injured, and protect the health of a city after an attack. In addition, many more volunteers will be needed for various duties under the direction of professional people, such as doctors and nurses, in the local civil defense organizations.

The Health Service also must have thousands of persons trained in more than just first aid who can be organized for definite jobs at first aid stations, and women volunteers who have taken courses in home nursing and nurses' aide.

Men will be needed as litter bearers, ambulance personnel, hospital orderlies and attendants, supply handlers, and maintenance workers.

Defense against disease and gas warfare, and against radiological contamination will need extra food inspectors, and sanitation workers. Radiological monitoring teams will need teachers, or advanced students of physics and other related subjects, as team leaders, and high

Government Halts Model Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — The government today prohibited the auto industry and manufacturers of washing machines, refrigerators and other consumer durable goods from making major model changes after Feb. 1.

The National Production Authority took the action in an order placing the nation's machine tool industry on a full mobilization basis. This affects every type of civilian producer dealing in products containing metal.

99-Year-Old Emmett's Chapel Young Again After Rededication

Last Sunday was a red letter day for Emmett's Chapel Methodist church, located just south of Circleville on Route 23.

During the last three years the congregation has been remodeling and improving the 99-year-old chapel.

Improvements recently completed include new hardwood floors, furnace, pews, altar, pulpit, communion table, carpet, walls papered and the exterior and roof freshly painted.

Last Sunday, with a congregation that more than filled the new oak pews, the chapel was rededicated. The service opened under the direction of the Rev. Carl Wetherell, pastor, with Mrs. Wetherell at the piano.

Dr. George Wilson, superintendent of the Chillicothe district, preached the sermon and led the dedicatory service.

Wells Wilson, chairman of the official board, spoke briefly of the work done, stating that about $4,000

Philip Wilson and Arthur and Dale Gifford, sang "The Church's One Foundation," and Phil Wilson, accompanied by his daughter, sang "Bless This House."

The improvement of the chapel was begun with a bequest of money by the late Miss Nettie Rader, registered nurse.

Miss Rader was a member of Emmett Chapel. Her sister, Mrs. Cora Hood, continues a devoted member of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shepler presented the communion table. There were other smaller cash gifts by members and friends sufficient to make a long list.

The members remember especially the efforts of Rev. S. C. Elsea, of Circleville, during whose pastorate the work began.

Plans for the re-dedication were made by the recently organized church board of education, composed of Arthur Gifford, Mrs. Bernard Young, Mrs. Curtis Bower, Mrs. Harry Wright and Dale Gifford.

Priest Involved In Theft Due To Be Deported

TOLEDO, Nov. 9—The Rev. Anthony Gorek, 72, former Toledo priest who figured in the aftermath of a million-dollar Toledo postoffice robbery in 1921, today faces deportation.

Immigration and naturalization officials said Father Gorek, now living in Brenham, Tex., illegally re-entered the United States in 1937.

The immigration officials said that when Father Gorek pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing $35,000 worth of Liberty Bonds stolen in the robbery of the postoffice on Feb. 17, 1921, he was inadmissible when he came back to the United States.

Officials said that Father Gorek left for Poland shortly after he served one hour in custody of a U. S. marshal for his part in the robbery.

At the time of the trial, Father Gorek said he cashed several of the bonds to help his church. The rest were recovered in his home.

"GEM OF THE OCEAN"

THERE is a song which earlier generations sang on many occasions and with great enthusiasm which no longer is heard. It was, in a way, a tribute to the nation set to music.

"Columbia, the gem of the ocean, the home of the brave and the free," were the opening words. "The shrine of the patriot's devotion, a world offers homage to thee." Brave, challenging words, but no one sings them today.

In recent years "The Star Spangled Banner" has virtually replaced other patriotic songs, following its designation as the national anthem by Congress. But many who sing it hum the second verse because they have not learned the words.

"My Country, 'Tis of Thee," is seldom heard today. Occasionally a modern version is heard, in which God's blessing is asked on America, "our home, sweet home." But none of these has served to keep alive a spirit of patriotism, without which the nation cannot be kept secure.

What is needed is universal turning to the spirit of the old song. "Their mandates make heroes assemble, when Liberty's form stands to view; thy banners make tyranny tremble, when borne by the Red, White and Blue."

Voiced by millions of Americans, the song would be heard around the world. But, instead, people today sing of frustrated love, with an occasional nifty like "Rudolph, the Rednosed Reindeer" for variety.

SIN OF INDIFFERENCE

"THE traveler in America," writes David L. Cohn in the New York Times, "encounters worried men. Their primary concern is with the life-or-death issue of war or peace. Their second concern is whether we have become morally bankrupt; a race of frauds, givers and takers of bribes. . . breakers of laws, gangster-ridden on a huge scale. . . the nation is horrified by revelations of narcotism among us."

Position of the late Governor Folk of Missouri that bribery is treason is recalled. He said "the corruption which breaks out here and there and now and then" tends to change the form of the government from one that is representative of all the people to an oligarchy representative of the special interests. This being true, severe penalties ought to be applied to the bribers as well as the bribed.

Most public servants are honorable men. But they will cease to be that if public apathy to corruption sets in. If public officials ever understand there is indifference to peculations, the practice will grow until the nation is fatally weakened by the rottenness within.

These Days

If what our military and diplomatic experts say is true, then it is essential for us to hold Western Europe and the Mediterranean countries on our side. This must include Spain as well as Turkey and Greece; the Arab countries and Israel as well as the North Atlantic ones.

Although this effort has already cost us greatly, it has not been very successful. Most of the countries of Northern Europe are sitting on their hands, hopeful that they will get whatever benefits accrue without much labor, productivity of sacrifice.

Two wars in which this country came to the aid of Western Europe, have produced the historic situation of American responsibility for the next war. That gives each European country bargaining power with us.

There may be another side to this question; perhaps Europeans cannot understand what we mean or what we want. They understand Stalin. His presentation of his case is clear-cut: he seeks to establish a universal socialist state within which existing nations will be permitted a degree of autonomy. His alternative is a constant condition of war and the preparation for war, with attendant costs and disorders.

Even his definitions of socialism are clear, at any rate to a European, because they are based on the Leninist modification of Marxism as interpreted by Stalin. The Marxist basis is, in Europe, more than a century old and is understood. Whereas to Americans Marxism may be confusing, a European high school student can expound dialectical materialism and will be for or against it.

Thus far, no American has stated the case for the United States in terms understandable to an educated European or, for that matter, to an educated Asiatic. The only European who has made clear the Western opposition to Soviet Russia and to Communism has been the pope.

Again this needs explanation, particularly when so many Catholics and Protestants in the United States are concerned with 16th Century problems rather than with the urgencies of the year 1951.

To most Americans the Communists pose an economic question: Government ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange versus private ownership. But two wars, various depressions, revolutions, inflations and other disasters have forced even upon unwilling Europeans socialism in varying degrees, so that private enterprise, capitalism, has not the meaning or the value that it has for Americans. Furthermore, as the European looks upon the United States, this country is marked by an increasing socialism, not a product of mass revolution, but imposed by government using the mechanism of taxation, subsidies and war controls.

The struggle then becomes, for the European, philosophic and theological. It has to do with man's place in the cosmos; with the relations of man to his environment; with whether man is a creature of God, created by Him, or whether he is the end result of specialization in a biological process. Whereas Christianity insists upon absolutes in morals, Marxism insists that man is controlled by an ever-changing environment and that therefore there can be no absolutes.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

MOLLIE launched into her story to Nicholas of Peter's latest difficulty. "Well, it seems that Stoezel has told Butcher that he may do major surgery only when supervised by a Senior surgery resident."

"Quite right of him. Butcher's mortality rate is way up there!" Nicholas' pipe stem pointed skyward. "I'd take him off the list if I was me. Being manager, I mean."

"Yes. Well, in a case Butcher had, Diebal—he's Senior resident, you know. Surgery."

"Thank you, Dr. Brooks." "Your welcome, Dr. Cowan. Diebal passes the buck and assigns Peter to supervise one of Butcher's sections."

Nicholas took a step backward. Mollie nodded. "Yes! I told Peter not to let the Senior do that to him." Nicholas' hands reached out, grabbed her by the shoulders and shook her until her yellow hair flew. A man, passing by, turned to look at them in alarm. "Wednesday," said Nicholas to the stranger. "Come around tomorrow. I beat her on Thursdays."

The man hurried down the pavement.

"Really, Nicholas..." said Mollie.

"Really, Mollie! and I will beat you if you don't keep that pink nose of yours out of hospital politics!"

"But, Nicholas..."

"You can't do this sort of thing, darling!"

"I don't do a thing but slip him a word of caution. I knew what would happen; he didn't. I couldn't stand by and see Peter get into a jam."

"Oh, dear me," said Nicholas, looking about him as if in search of words or patience. "Look! I'm paying your intelligence no compliment, but it seems to me that someone should point out to you that Peter is only a junior resident, while you're a Staff surgeon!"

"What's that got to do with it? If I can't afford to be kind..."

"It isn't that. The point is this: The Big Boys are ready to overlook a few mistakes on the part of a new resident. But they expect a Staff—Oh, Mollie, try to remember that you can be hurt in the process of saving your Shepherd!"

He was so earnest that Mollie had to consider what he said. "Maybe you're right, Nicholas." Her lips quirked, and she glanced at him through her lashes. "If I do get hurt—will you help me out of it?"

He seized her elbow, and turned her toward her apartment house. "Don't flirt with me, Mollie Brooks!" he said roughly. "Save that for your little boys!"

She was as angry as she could remember ever having been. Before the clipped hedge of her apartment entrance, she held out a gloved hand. "Good night, Nicholas." He was whistling a lilting thread of Chopin.

"Oh, I'm coming in with you," he said, almost in tune to the melody. "Good evening, Eddie! How are you?"

He caught up with Mollie at the elevator. "Temper, temper!" he murmured. His finger helped her push the proper button. His eyes smiled, but she would not respond.

She could ignore him and she did. Leaving him to greet Hazel, which he did warmly, she went to her dressing closet and took off her outer wraps, went into the bathroom and smoothed her hair. When she came out, Nicholas was lounging against the kitchen door frame, tasting something. Hazel's laughter greeted his comment.

Mollie went to the couch and picked up the evening paper. When he brought a little tray containing two cocktails, she shook her head. "Don't pout, Mollie."

She glanced up at him, trying not to like him. But his face was so serene, his thick hair was ruffled a little by the wind, his eyes were so warmly friendly—it was all so like it had used to be, their easy companionship. . . She smiled, somewhat ruefully. "I just don't want a drink—now," she said.

"O.K." He drained his own glass, picked up hers and roamed about the room, rearranging the flowers in a vase, picking up a book. "This good?" he asked over his shoulder.

"I don't know. I haven't had time to read it. It's about Semmelweis."

"May I borrow it when you're through?"

"Take it now. Why don't you sit down? I'll give you the funnies."

Her anger had trickled out of her like sand.

He came and sat down beside her, and took the main section of the paper. "Going to hell on a toboggan," he commented, and Mollie giggled, because that was what Nicholas had been saying of the country for ten years.

"Are you staying for dinner?" "I wasn't asked," he said primly. She squared around on the couch; his eyebrow quirked in anticipation. "Yes?" he said alertly.

Her hand touched his. "Just this and then I won't say any more. But won't you please give Peter a chance, Nicholas?"

"What sort of chance does he need from me?" His question was fair.

"I only meant in your opinion of him."

"Does my opinion make any difference?"

"It certainly does. You don't fool anybody. If you don't like a person, or—approve of them—they know it at once."

"So?"

"Well, Peter's sensitive."

"Oh, la!"

"But he is!"

"Then my advice would be for him to get over it and as quickly as possible. Being sensitive is no equipment for a doctor."

"He's a very good doctor, Nicholas."

"You keep saying that, and it may be true, Mollie. But the record says he is somewhat unreliable."

She gasped.

He turned toward her. "Look at the record, Mollie. And try to consider it impersonally. Peter's been with the Group how long?"

"About three months."

"And he already has two bad mistakes chalked up against him."

"What sort of mistakes?"

Though she knew.

"There was the matter of an Ascheim-Zondek..."

"Oh," she said scornfully. "That kind of record. I suppose you call young Mayer his second mistake. Though neither of them was a mistake, not actually!"

"They don't need to be, actually."

Try, Stop Me

Ethel Merman once paused for luncheon at the open air restaurant near the Central Park Zoo. She ordered fruit salad, which was rather rough on her dachshund, who begged for a morsel. Suddenly Miss Merman saw a chance to make the dog happy: a man arose from an adjoining table and left a succulent and untouched lamb chop on his plate. Miss Merman snatched it and fed it to her rapturous dachshund.

He was just polishing off the bone when the man from the next table returned for his lunch. He had been dallying in a phone booth. Miss Merman grabbed up the dachshund and hastily pedaled in the direction of the monkey house.

An inquisitive guest asked Mrs. Cohalan: "What's in that bottle I saw in the kitchen?" Without looking up, Mrs. Cohalan replied, "Eight to one it's my husband Mike."

But two wars, various depressions, revolutions, inflations and other disasters have forced even upon unwilling Europeans socialism in varying degrees, so that private enterprise, capitalism, has not the meaning or the value that it has for Americans. Furthermore, as the European looks upon the United States, this country is marked by an increasing socialism, not a product of mass revolution, but imposed by government using the mechanism of taxation, subsidies and war controls.

The struggle then becomes, for the European, philosophic and theological. It has to do with man's place in the cosmos; with the relations of man to his environment; with whether man is a creature of God, created by Him, or whether he is the end result of specialization in a biological process. Whereas Christianity insists upon absolutes in morals, Marxism insists that man is controlled by an ever-changing environment and that therefore there can be no absolutes.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

MOLLIE launched into her story to Nicholas of Peter's latest difficulty.

"Well, it seems that Stoezel has told Butcher that he may do major surgery only when supervised by a Senior surgery resident."

"Quite right of him. Butcher's mortality rate was up there!" Nicholas' pipe stem pointed skyward. "I'd take him off the list if it was me. Being manager, I mean."

"Yes. Well, in a case Butcher had, Diebal-ne's Senior resident, you know. Surgery."

"Thank you, Dr. Brooks."

"You're welcome, Dr. Cowan. Diebal passes the buck and assigns Peter to supervise one of Butcher's sections."

Nicholas took a step backward. Mollie nodded. "Yes! I told Peter not to let the Senior do that to him."

Nicholas' hands reached out, grabbed her by the shoulders and shook her until her yellow hair flew. A man, passing by, turned to look at them in alarm. "Wednesday," said Nicholas to the stranger. "Come around tomorrow. I beat her on Thursdays."

The man hurried down the pavement.

"Really, Nicholas..." said Mollie.

"Really, Mollie! and I will beat you if you don't keep that pink nose of yours out of hospital politics!"

"But, Nicholas..."

"You can't do this sort of thing, darling."

"I don't do a thing but slip him a word of caution. I knew what would happen; he didn't. I couldn't stand by and see Peter get into a jam."

"Oh, dear me," said Nicholas, looking about him as if in search of words or patience. "Look! I'm paying your intelligence no compliment, but it seems to me that someone should point out to you that Peter is only a junior resident, while you're a Staff surgeon!"

"What's that got to do with it? If I can't afford to be kind..."

"It isn't that. The point is this: The Big Boys are ready to overlook a few mistakes on the part of a new resident. But they expect a Staff—Oh, Mollie, try to remember that you can be hurt in the process of saving your Shepherd!"

He was so earnest that Mollie had to consider what he said. "Maybe you're right, Nicholas." Her lips quirked, and she glanced at him through her lashes. "If I do get hurt—will you help me out of it?"

He seized her elbow, and turned her toward her apartment house. "Don't flirt with me, Mollie Brooks!" he said roughly. "Save that for your little boys!"

She was as angry as she could remember ever having been. Before the clipped hedge of her apartment entrance, she held out a gloved hand. "Good night, Nicholas." He was whistling a lilting thread of Chopin.

"Oh, I'm coming in with you," he said, almost in tune to the melody. "Good evening, Eddie! How are you?"

He caught up with Mollie at the elevator. "Temper, temper!" he murmured. His finger helped her push the proper button. His eyes smiled, but she would not respond.

She could ignore him and she did. Leaving him to greet Hazel, which he did warmly, she went to her dressing closet and took off her outer wraps, went into the bathroom and smoothed her hair. When she came out, Nicholas was lounging against the kitchen door frame, tasting something. Hazel's laughter greeted his comment.

Mollie went to the couch and picked up the evening paper. When he brought a little tray containing two cocktails, she shook her head. "Don't pout, Mollie."

She glanced up at him, trying not to like him. But his face was so serene, his thick hair was ruffled a little by the wind, his eyes were so warmly friendly—it was all so like it had used to be, their easy companionship. . . She smiled, somewhat ruefully. "I just don't want a drink—now," she said.

"O.K." He drained his own glass, picked up hers and roamed about the room, rearranging the flowers in a vase, picking up a new book. "This good?" he asked over his shoulder.

"I don't know. I haven't had time to read it. It's about Semmelweis."

"May I borrow it when you're through?"

"Take it now. Why don't you sit down?" He gave her the funnies.

"Her anger had trickled out of her like sand."

He came and sat down beside her, and took the main section of the paper. "Going to sell on a toboggan," he commented, and Mollie giggled, because that was what Nicholas had been saying of the country for ten years.

"Are you staying for dinner?" "I wasn't asked," he said primly. She squared around on the couch; his eyebrow quirked in anticipation. "Yes?" he said alertly.

Her hand touched his. "Just this and then I won't say any more. But won't you please give Peter a chance, Nicholas?"

"What sort of chance does he need from me?" His question was fair.

"I only meant in your opinion of him."

"Does my opinion make any difference?"

"It certainly does. You don't feel anybody. If you don't like a person, or—approve of them—they know it at once."

"So?"

"Well, Peter's sensitive."

"Oh, la!"

"But he is!"

"Then my advice would be for him to get over it and as quickly as possible. Being sensitive is no equipment for a doctor."

"He's a very good doctor, Nicholas."

"You keep saying that, and it may be true, Mollie. But the record says he is somewhat unreliable."

She gasped.

He turned toward her. "Look at the record, Mollie. And try to consider it impersonally. Peter's been with the Group how long?"

"About three months."

"And he already has two bad mistakes chalked up against him."

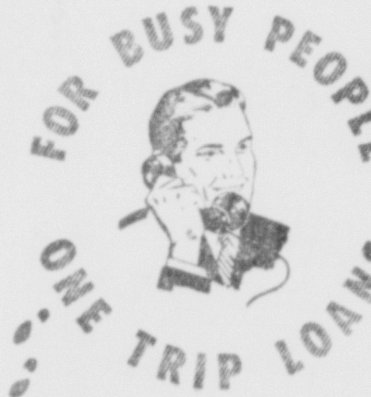

"What sort of mistakes?"

Though she knew.

"There was the matter of an Ascheim-Zondek..."

"Oh," she said scornfully. "That kind of record. I suppose you call young Mayer his second mistake. Though neither of them was a mistake, not actually!"

"They don't need to be, actually."

Try, Stop Me

Ethel Merman once paused for luncheon at the open air restaurant near the Central Park Zoo. She ordered fruit salad, which was rather rough on her dachshund, who begged for a morsel. Suddenly Miss Merman saw a chance to make the dog happy: a man arose from an adjoining table and left a succulent and untouched lamb chop on his plate. Miss Merman snatched it and fed it to her rapacious dachshund.

He was just polishing off the bone when the man from the next table returned for his lunch. He had been dallying in a phone booth. Miss Merman grabbed up the dachshund and hastily pedaled in the direction of the monkey house.

An inquisitive guest asked Mrs. Cohan: "What's in that bottle I saw in the kitchen?" Without looking up, Mrs. Cohan replied, "Eight to one it's my husband Mike."

2,188 NEWSMEN ANSWER POLL

Editors Prefer Gen. Ike,
But Think Truman To Win

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 9.—The Western Newspaper Union announced today a poll of 2,188 weekly newspaper editors shows Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower winning a "presidential popularity" contest, but President Truman first in forecasts as the 1952 victor.

Eisenhower was a bare winner over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in the popularity contest while the President ran a poor third.

In forecasting the 1952 presidential winner, the editors picked Mr. Truman first, Eisenhower second, and Taft third.

A clear majority—57.5 per cent said they expected Taft to win the Republican nomination. In a separate poll of how their state delegations would vote in the next GOP convention, the editors said Taft would win 38 state delegations with only six, including New York, going to Eisenhower, and California to Gov. Earl Warren and three still in doubt.

THERE WAS NO doubt among the editors about Mr. Truman's re-nomination. In a forecast poll, 94.5 per cent of the editors said the President would run again. In the poll by states, the editors reported he would get 42 state delegations with six in the South unpledged or opposed to him.

In the popularity contest, the editors were asked: "Whom do you personally favor for the presidency?" They voted:

Eisenhower, 666; Taft, 592½; Truman, 187½; undecided, 148; former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, 143; Warren, 110½.

The rest scattered their votes among 38 possibilities.

Asked, "who do you think will be the next President?" the editors voted:

For Truman, 888; Eisenhower, 544½; Taft, 458½; undecided, 134 with 123 scattered for a host of others.

A half vote was counted when one editor gave two names in his reply. In the popularity contest, Eisenhower's greatest strength was in Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York (36.2 per cent to 29.9 for Taft), Oklahoma, Pennsylvania (by 38.2 per cent to 32.1 for Taft) and Texas. Taft's strength rested in California, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Washington (31.3 per cent to 27.1 for Ike), and West Virginia.

Election Brings Pair Little Joy
WINGATE, Ind., Nov. 9.—There is no joy today in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ingersoll of Wingate. Nor much political unity, either.

Ingersoll, a Democrat, ran for town trustee in Tuesday's election. His wife, a Republican, ran for town clerk. Both lost.

Teen Tips

There's nothing like the very first date in a girl's life to make questions buzz in a teen brain. Here's a letter from a high schooler that may have the same queries that puzzle you:

"I go to high school and am fairly popular. Now that I'm just starting to have dates, these questions have been bothering me.

"1. When you have a date, is a skirt and blouse correct to wear or should you wear a dress?

"2. After a date, are you supposed to open the car door yourself, or wait for the boy to do it and then if he doesn't should you go ahead and get out?

"3. When he calls for you, is the boy supposed to get out of the car and come to the door for you or are you supposed to go out to the car?"

The People Are Delivered

JEHOVAH PARTS SEA SO ISRAELITES CROSS TO SAFETY.

Scripture—Exodus 15-16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

SOME MONTHS ago, a group of Jewish survivors from Central Europe sailed for Palestine after escaping from the terrible persecutions to which they had been subjected. They named their boat, "The Good Ship Exodus." Since the year 1900, nearly one million Jews have moved into this same land, and they are still going there.

These people were doing what their faraway ancestors did in 1445-1444 B.C., when the great Exodus from Egypt took place. That great outpouring of about two million human beings, their children, servants, probably some of mixed descent who had been impressed by the wonders taking place in Egypt, is one of the greatest mass movements in all history.

Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh, after convincing their own people that the Lord would indeed give them their liberty under the leadership of these two men. They said to the Pharaoh, "Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto Me in the wilderness."

But Pharaoh answered, "Who is the Lord, that I should obey His voice to let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go."

Then Pharaoh made the burdens of the Israelites much greater. He told his taskmaster to give them no more straw to mix with the clay in making bricks. The poor workmen were forced to go into the fields after the harvest to get the stubble left by the reapers and to chop it into small pieces. At the same time, they were told that they must make the same number of bricks each day as before.

The Israelites blamed this misfortune on Moses, saying that instead of helping them, he had put a sword in their hands. Egyptian taskmasters' heads to slay us." Even Moses was discouraged—even as you and I—and asked the Lord why He had sent him to lead his people to liberty.

The Lord reassured Moses, telling him, that "Thou shalt see what I will do to Pharaoh: for with a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall he drive them out of his land."

Further the Lord said: "See I have made thee a god to Pharaoh: and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet."

Again Moses and his brother stood before Pharaoh, and this time they took the rod with them, and it became a serpent when they threw it down. But the court's magicians did the same thing with their rods, with an exception: their rods were devoured by Moses' rod.

Then the Lord brought ten horrible plagues upon the Egyptians. There is not space in this column to tell of them in detail. The first was turning the water in the river to blood so that the fish died and the water was not fit to drink. The Pharaoh's magicians did the same thing.

The second was the plague of frogs which covered the land. The magicians duplicated that too. The third was turning all the dust of the land into lice, which infested man and beast. The magicians tried that, too, but could not make it work, and they told Pharaoh that this was the "finger of God," but he would not listen but hardened his heart.

Swarms of flies were the fourth, and this time the Lord put a division between the Egyptians and the land of the Israelites, so that the latter would not suffer from the plague.

In spite of the sufferings of his people, the Pharaoh's heart hardened after the plagues were abated, and he refused to let the Israelites go.

The next was an illness among the cattle so that they all died, but the Israelites' cattle were perfectly healthy. Boils that afflicted everyone, even the Pharaoh, came next; then rain and hail that ruined crops; then locusts that ate the last of the growing things. The ninth plague was a dreadful darkness that settled over the Egyptians, while the Israelites had light.

As the various plagues were lifted, Pharaoh's heart hardened and he refused to let the people go.

One night, at midnight, Pharaoh rose, he, and his servants and all the people, and there arose a great cry throughout all the land, for the firstborn of every family was dead, from the least unto Pharaoh himself. "There was not a house where there was not one dead."

The Lord had prepared the Israelites for this terrible scourge. Each household was ordered to kill a lamb on the tenth day of the month, then on the fourteenth day they were to kill the lamb, and sprinkle some of its blood on the upper door of the house, so that when the angel of death passed he would spare the inhabitants of the blood-marked houses. This was to be the feast of the Passover, which, the Lord ordered, they should keep at that same time forever.

Pharaoh realized that the Lord was indeed with the Israelites, and he ordered them out of Egypt with their families, their flocks and herds. So Moses led them forth.

"And the Lord went before them in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night."

They camped before the Red sea, and by this time, Pharaoh had repented of letting them go, and he sent his best chariots and soldiers after them. The Israelites were terrified, but that night the cloud that had been before the Israelites, stood behind them, between them and the Egyptians.

In the morning the Israelites upbraided Moses for bringing them away from their homes, but he said: "The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace."

You know the story well, how Moses raised his hand and the waters of the sea parted and the hosts of Israel walked dry-shod through the sea; while the chariots and soldiers of the Egyptians sank into the sea as the waters came back and all were drowned.

On dry land and safe, the Israelites sang a beautiful song of praise to God.

In Scioto Chapel at 10:30 a. m. He also will conduct a local conference at 2:30 p. m. in Ashville church.

The Rev. Eugene Flowers of Bremen will be guest evangelist in a two-week revival series beginning Monday night in Morris Evangelical United Brethren church. The special revival services will be held at 7:45 p. m. nightly through Nov. 25. Morris

Girls' 'Playday' To Be Thursday At Walnut School

Pickaway County high school girls will meet in Walnut Township school Thursday for an all-county recreational "playday." The "playday," conducted under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Courtright, will consist of a series of games and contests throughout the day for the local high school girls, who are barred from interscholastic competition. Girls' physical education teachers from each of the 11 Pickaway County high schools are to meet at 4 p. m. Monday in the office of County Superintendent George McDowell to make final plans for the girls' program.

Medics Ponder Newk's Status

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Don Newcombe's draft status won't be determined for a couple of days. The 25-year-old Brooklyn Dodger right-hander is being held over at New York's Fort Jay where Army doctors are trying to determine whether he has a kidney ailment. Newcombe was reclassified from 3-A to 1-A last week under new regulations concerning childless married men.

The huge fireballer took a pre-induction exam in Newark, N. J., Wednesday and was ordered to Fort Jay for further tests.

Speedie, James May Be Benched For Eagle Tilt

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Tommy, James and Mac Speedie are doubtful starters for the Browns when they meet the Philadelphia Eagles in Cleveland Sunday, but for different reasons.

James, the erstwhile Massillon high school and Ohio State university football star, strained a knee muscle in the Cardinals' game at Chicago Sunday and if it fails to respond to treatment he will be replaced by Don Shula, former John Carroll player, at the defensive right halfback slot.

Speedie, on the other hand, has recovered fully from injuries which kept him sidelined for several weeks, but his left end post may be filled by Horace Gillom.

Gillom has been playing a good game while subbing for Speedie and Coach Paul Brown said the punting specialist will retain his status as No. 1 left end until Speedie demonstrates that he again belongs in the spot.

James' loss would prove a serious handicap to the Browns for the Eagles have one of the most pass-minded squads in the National Football League.

County Teachers Set Plans For Cage Tourneys

The Pickaway County Men's Teachers Association met Thursday night in the Walnut Township school for a banquet served by the Walnut home economics class.

Following the banquet a business meeting was held with County Superintendent George D. McDowell in charge. Several items of business were settled including the following:

1. A maximum admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students was set for all county basketball games.
2. John McPherson of Darby was again elected to be junior high basketball tournament manager. McPherson was instructed to proceed with the hiring of officials and other necessary preparations for the annual tournament set to begin about Jan. 28.

3. Superintendent Robert Seward of Pickaway, representing the county basketball committee, submitted a new schedule for the 1952-53 season which was adopted by the group. The new schedule will permit no games for at least five days preceding Christmas to leave time for other organizations planning programs.

4. It was decided not to furnish a reserve trophy this season, but trophies will be given first, second, and third place teams in the county league and tournament.

Some Hope Seen For Lake Here

Pickaway Project's Status Reviewed

Pickaway County's Farmer's and Sportsmen's Club was told Thursday night that plans for the proposed new lake in the Devil's Backbone area east of Circleville are slowly nearing completion.

Robert Wolf, secretary to the sports group, said he and County Representative Ed Wallace of Circleville visited Columbus Tuesday to get information about the dam project.

"We talked to V. W. Flickinger, head of the new lakes and parks division," Wolf said, "and he laid the cards on the table for us."

Wolf said the new developments chief had repeated that there definitely will be a new lake created in the Devil's Backbone area, but that it is simply a matter of time before the job is done.

Flickinger told the local pair that an engineering firm has been awarded a contract to draw up a master plan for the lake area and that this paper-work job should be completed within 90 days.

After that, he told Wolf and Wallace, the plans will be ready for bidding by contractors.

Principal drawback to the completion of the lake dam is expected to be lack of steel reinforcing material for the spillway.

"He told us there probably would be no steel available for the job for some time," Wolf said. "He said the department had asked for four tons earlier to complete a smaller job, but was turned down."

As far as when the dam actually will be ready to back up the headwaters of Hargus Creek, Wolf reported Flickinger as stating, is dependent on the availability of materials.

Money appropriated by the last Ohio legislature will be available for the project until June 30, 1953. After that, the fund, earmarked for the Pickaway lake, will have to be reappropriated.

County Teachers Set Plans For Cage Tourneys

The Pickaway County Men's Teachers Association met Thursday night in the Walnut Township school for a banquet served by the Walnut home economics class.

Following the banquet a business meeting was held with County Superintendent George D. McDowell in charge. Several items of business were settled including the following:

1. A maximum admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students was set for all county basketball games.
2. John McPherson of Darby was again elected to be junior high basketball tournament manager. McPherson was instructed to proceed with the hiring of officials and other necessary preparations for the annual tournament set to begin about Jan. 28.

3. Superintendent Robert Seward of Pickaway, representing the county basketball committee, submitted a new schedule for the 1952-53 season which was adopted by the group. The new schedule will permit no games for at least five days preceding Christmas to leave time for other organizations planning programs.

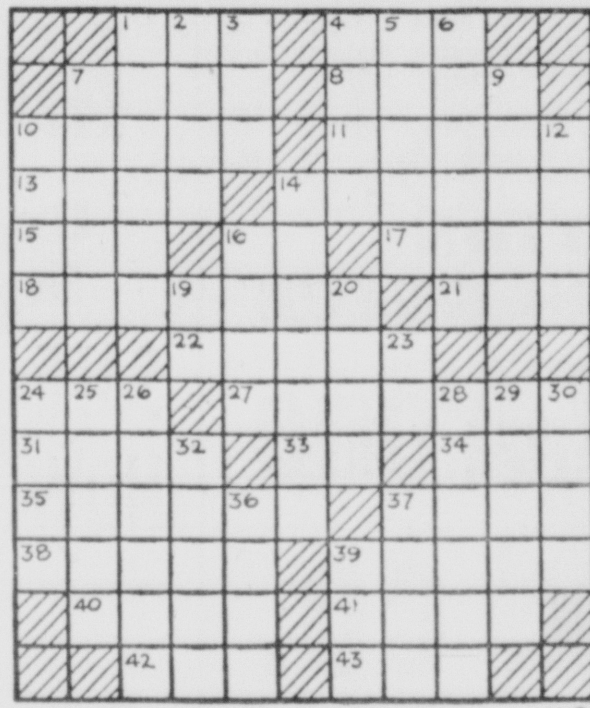

4. It was decided not to furnish a reserve trophy this season, but trophies will be given first, second, and third place teams in the county league and tournament.

Ohio State '11' In Pittsburgh For Grid Test

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—A traveling Ohio State squad of 39 strong was due to arrive here today for tomorrow's game with Pitt's winless Panthers.

The Buckeyes scheduled one light signal calling session at 3 p. m. to iron out the kinks for the homecoming contest.

No changes were contemplated in Saturday's starting Ohio lineup. Tony Curcillo is expected in at quarterback, Doug Goodsell at right halfback, Vic Janowicz at left half and Jack Wanger at full.

The weatherman at the Smoky City predicted possible showers for gametime with temperatures ranging in the 50s.

Showers would put a crimp in the passing attack of both teams, but probably would leave Pitt at a greater loss. Coach Tom Hamilton has built his hopes on the passing arm of Bob Bestwick while the Bucks have been flexing their rushing muscles.

Due in with Coach Woody Hayes varsity gridders are 30 Jayvee footballers. The junior squad will cross swords with the Pitt reserves at 8 p. m. tonight in nearby Bridgeville, Pa.

Annual SCOL Fall Meeting Due Wednesday

Officials of all five South Central Ohio League member schools will meet in Greenfield high school Wednesday for their annual Fall get-together.

A feature of the Wednesday session will be the awarding of the 1951 SCOL football championship, an honor to be won during Friday night's Circleville-Washington C.H. grid contest.

Another highlight of the meeting will be selection of the All-SCOL honor team, composed of the outstanding players of the league. The honor team, and subsequent second team and honorable mention players, is chosen by the coaches of the schools.

Wednesday's Fall meeting will begin at 6 p. m. in the McClain high school with officials from Circleville, Washington, Hillsboro, Wilmington and the host school on hand.

Sugar-Rocky Bout Readied

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Aside from a "few kinks," everything is set for a middleweight title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Rocky Graziano in Chicago Stadium Feb. 20.

That's the latest from International Boxing Club President Jim Norris who announced yesterday that the rival managers have "just about agreed on terms."

Robinson is to get 35 per cent and Rocky 25 per cent.

Still to be worked out is a special TV contract with the regular Wednesday night sponsor.

'Liberalized' Fish Program Gets Backing

Pickaway County joined the other 17 counties of southeast Ohio Thursday in recommending a complete "liberalization" of fishing for next year.

A group of about 30 farmer's and sportsmen's clubs representatives met Thursday in Court Main restaurant here for an annual fish hearing.

Principal issue coming from the hearing was the recommendation to remove all bag and length limits in the future.

Representing Pickaway County's sportsman's group during the session were Lawrence Liston and Charles Glitt. Liston said fish propagation specialists were on hand during the session to give facts concerning the "liberalized" fishing program.

THE FISH MEN stated that streams said to have been "fished out" over a period of years have been tested by the state and found to contain a normal supply of fish. In addition, they explained the setup of the streams already "liberalized" as experimental projects and reported that fish populations suffered little from the experiment.

They added, however, that the state's stocking plan probably will be continued as before.

Meanwhile, all game protectors from the 18 counties of Ohio's southeastern district met at the same time to discuss law enforcement problems.

Clarence Francis, local game protector, said the officers met to plan enforcement for the coming hunting year.

Sokolsky's These Days

Translated into political terms, this struggle might be as between a free man, possessing free will and decision, versus the man who has been mastered by the state which controls his environment.

Each side used the word "democracy" falsely and for different reasons. It may be omitted from any serious discussion of the problem.

From this standpoint, the pope represents the most clear and articulate statement of the case for a moral versus a mastered society. No one else has stated the anti-Marxist case as understandably or as correctly.

In America's battle against Soviet Russia, then, Marxism is the principal issue. Unfortunately, for us, many of those who are engaged in fighting our cause are either Marxists themselves or do not understand Marxism and therefore deal with it incorrectly. If our propaganda agencies have failed in Europe, or have not succeeded as well as might have been expected, it is because they have not been able to approach this problem from the philosophic and theological side.

Local Sportsmen See Fish Film

More than 40 members of the Pickaway County Farmer's and Sportsmen's Club met Thursday in Memorial Hall to view the new Ohio fishes film released by the department of natural resources.

The 40-minute color film covered all fishes inhabiting Ohio streams and identified each species.

In addition, the film showed fishermen at work catching the various fishes, the types of bait to use for each and underwater shots of the fish actually taking the baits.

They keep shouting the word "democracy" which means so many different things that it has become an element of confusion rather than of understanding.

When President Truman appointed Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican, he could have made this clear had he understood the struggle, one side of which he captains. Instead, he has raised a political issue in the United States which can only strengthen the Marxist and therefore the anti-American forces in Europe.

Teegardins Enter Shorthorn In Show

20 Head To Be Sent To Chicago

International Due To Open Nov. 24

The first Pickaway County entry for the 1951 International Live Stock Exposition was received Wednesday in Chicago from C. B. Teegardin and Sons of near Ashville.

Well-known cattle breeders, they will take twenty Polled Shorthorns to Chicago for the open class-breeding competition of the exposition.

The exposition, which will get underway in the International Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards Nov. 24 for an eight-day run through Dec. 1, each year makes Chicago the center of interest of the continent's livestock industry.

Last year's show drew over 11 thousand head of the nation's top cattle, sheep, swine and horses from 34 states and two Canadian provinces. To the livestock breeder and feeder it is the "world's series" of all shows, where final decisions in livestock competitions are made. An International winning is regarded as the highest award that an exhibitor can attain. Cash prizes will again total over $100,000, according to the management. A $56,000 prize list is offered in the Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn breeds. Swine premiums will total $10,000 with sheep prizes consisting of $8,300.

ENTRIES FOR carlot exhibits will be accepted to Nov. 17. Hay and Grain Show entries must be in by Saturday.

Young farm boys and girls from across the nation will again play a major role in the big events of the International.

Youngsters have always been an important part of the exposition, showing the International grand champion steer fifteen times since they were permitted to compete in the open classes in 1928. Similarly they have shown grand champion barrows and lambs in competition with adult livestock feeders and breeders.

A young Texas lad, Lloyd Robinson of Big Spring, last year showed his blocky Hereford calf to the grand championship of the fat steer show.

The outstanding steer, named "Big Spring Special," was later auctioned to establish a record price of $12 per pound, enriching young Lloyd $12,300 to start his own purebred Hereford ranch.

The Junior Live Stock Feeding Contest in which boys and girls show baby beeves, lambs and barrows of their own raising is among the curtain-raisers of the show Nov. 24.

BUT MANY MORE activities for boys and girls bring them into the limelight during International Week. The 30th National 4-H Club

Congress will be held in downtown Chicago.

They will be the very cream of the nation's farm youngsters, winning their trips to Chicago through accomplishments in agriculture.

Wednesday afternoon of the great stock show, the massed 4-H Club Congress members will attend the horseshow matinee in the International Amphitheatre. That evening, before a packed audience of spectators, they will parade, 1500 strong, around the arena in a spectacular pageant.

The scarlet tanager is the most brilliantly-colored bird of the United States.

NPA Hits Ohio Aluminum User

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — The government has charged an Ohio manufacturer with illegal use of three million pounds of scarce aluminum and announced it will try to put him out of business for the rest of the emergency.

The National Production Authority yesterday lodged a formal complaint against Alside, Inc., of Akron, one of the country's producers of aluminum for home siding.

The agency said the aluminum was used by Alside "in flagrant disregard for the nation's defense effort," and predicted that "20 other cases just as serious" will be uncovered before the end of 1951.

Driving Rights Modified For 2 County Workers

Two men relieved of the driving rights in Pickaway County common pleas court earlier this year have been given special privileges by the court.

The men are William B. Teets

and Richard Vincent, both of whom had their driving rights suspended by the court because of drunken driving.

Both men earn their livelihoods by means of driving trucks. The court gave Teets permission to drive a truck for George VanCamp and Clyde Cook during working hours, while the court gave Vincent permission to drive a truck for the state department of highways during working hours.

Similarly they have shown grand champion barrows and lambs in competition with adult livestock feeders and breeders.

A young Texas lad, Lloyd Robinson of Big Spring, last year showed his blocky Hereford calf to the grand championship of the fat steer show.

The outstanding steer, named "Big Spring Special," was later auctioned to establish a record price of $12 per pound, enriching young Lloyd $12,300 to start his own purebred Hereford ranch.

The Junior Live Stock Feeding Contest in which boys and girls show baby beeves, lambs and barrows of their own raising is among the curtain-raisers of the show Nov. 24.

BUT MANY MORE activities for boys and girls bring them into the limelight during International Week. The 30th National 4-H Club

Congress will be held in downtown Chicago.

They will be the very cream of the nation's farm youngsters, winning their trips to Chicago through accomplishments in agriculture.

Wednesday afternoon of the great stock show, the massed 4-H Club Congress members will attend the horshow matinee in the International Amphitheatre. That evening, before a packed audience of spectators, they will parade, 1500 strong, around the arena in a spectacular pageant.

NPA Hits Ohio Aluminum User

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 — The government has charged an Ohio manufacturer with illegal use of three million pounds of scarce aluminum and announced it will try to put him out of business for the rest of the emergency.

The National Production Authority yesterday lodged a formal complaint against Alside, Inc., of Akron, one of the country's producers of aluminum for home siding.

The agency said the aluminum was used by Alside "in flagrant disregard for the nation's defense effort," and predicted that "20 other cases just as serious" will be uncovered before the end of 1951.

Driving Rights Modified For 2 County Workers

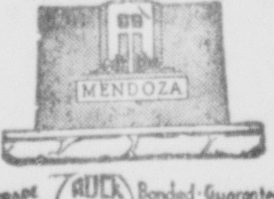

Two men relieved of the driving rights in Pickaway County common pleas court earlier this year have been given special privileges by the court.

The men are William B. Teets

and Richard Vincent, both of whom had their driving rights suspended by the court because of drunken driving.

Both men earn their livelihoods by means of driving trucks. The court gave Teets permission to drive a truck for George VanCamp and Clyde Cook during working hours, while the court gave Vincent permission to drive a truck for the state department of highways during working hours.
